In recent years, the criteria for the measurement of the frequency of the QRS wave have been revised based on the revision of F wave criteria of the electrocardiogram from the ASE (American Society of Electrocardiogram) and ICS (International Consortium for Standardization) in March, 1995. The U.S.A., England, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and the rest of the world have already revised the criteria of F wave. The ASE and the ICS have proposed rules of measurement of the frequency of the QRS wave as the criteria of the measurement of the frequency
