Kasihan Beberapa Peson Mudah Dongeng Menangi Ferhata Manis Sombongan Si Siva Thandavam (2012) Kermit Frog -Rainbow Connection is the soundtrack album for the motion picture seguel to The Muppet Movie, released on October 18, 1998. The album was recorded on September 28, 1998, at Blue Plate in New York City. The album was released on vinyl on January 27, 1999 by MCA Records and Warner Bros. Records and on CD on February 4, 1999. It was the first Kermit album featuring new Muppet characters since 1990's The Muppets; the only Kermit album with Henson's puppeteers and actors to have any Muppets in it since 1987's The Muppet Movie; and the only Kermit album to feature a new song since Kermit's Sesame Street . Rainbow Connection is also the last Kermit album to be produced entirely by Jim Henson, and the first Kermit album to feature Dave Grusin as the main music composer since The Muppet Movie. The majority of the songs were performed by accomplished Muppet performers Dave Goelz, Richard Hunt, Matt Vogel and Jeff Houser, as well as the album's executive producer Bob Crowley. Kermit's vocals were performed by Caroll Spinney, who was the only Kermit performer and the only Kermit performer to appear in the film and the soundtrack. The song "Wish You Were Here" was written specifically for Rainbow Connection by Steve Margoshes, Dan Frasier and Jim Henson. It was performed by Muppet performer Jeff Houser, while both Caroll Spinney and Frank Oz provided background vocals.
